

Bibliographie der deutschen Sprach- und Literaturwissenschaft (BDSL)

(International Bibliography of German Literature and Literacy Studies)

Requested by several German faculty members, the online database of the Bibliographie der deutschen Sprach- und Literaturwissenschaft (BDSL), or International Bibliography of German Literature and Literacy Studies, is an essential tool for research in German languages and literatures. This German language index lists approximately 300 international (but primarily German) periodicals, which cover all aspects of German language, linguistics, and literature. In addition to periodicals, the BDSL lists a variety of texts such as books, pamphlets, dissertations, reviews, working papers, and bibliographies.
